DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-15,17-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for a related subgenus of insecticidal compounds of formula (A) in instant invention, does not reasonably provide enablement for using all instant compounds of formula (A) as insecticides in instant invention. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. Because the functional groups on the core structure of formula (A) are many (note that substituent A is extremely broad having numerous heterocyclic compounds and R₂ covers numerous possibilities) and have different sizes, polarity and electronegativity, the activity of compounds of formula (A) would be questionable. The predictability in this art is high since a small change in a functional feature could result in a drastic change in activity and such a change can also result in an opposite effect or activity. To one of ordinary skill in the art, it would be a big job to determine the effect of all of the claimed structural changes. Because of this large burden (determination of which compounds would render desired results), Examiner would like to point out that Applicant would be entitled to a subgenus of what is being claimed. Examiner stresses that the subgenus created should be a group of related compounds in terms of size, polarity and electronegativity. Both of these factors should be heavily considered in the election of a subgenus group of compounds for the instant invention. With respect to the method claims, it would be a great burden on the Examiner to determine which compositions would be effective as an insecticide. The method claims are broad and would require a large degree of experimentation to determine which compositions would be effective insecticides.

Restriction Requirement

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-15,17-23, drawn to compounds and compositions comprising compound of formula (1), classified in class 504, subclass 132; class 514 subclass 229.2; class 544 subclass 67.
- II. Claim 16, drawn to a process of making compound of formula I, classified in class 544, subclass 67.

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions modes of operation.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

During a telephone conversation with Attorney Allen on 4/12/05 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of I, claims 1-15,17-23.

Art Unit: 1616

Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action.

Claim 16 is withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
